Why asset SCOP

For a number of reasons, crypto exchanges and wallets can create their own assets, and often distribute these assets to users as incentives for community growth. Most exchange-traded assets are designed to increase the liquidity of the exchange, encourage trading activity, or simplify the management of the exchange community.

Increased liquidity

In the financial market, liquidity refers to the availability of trading activities that you can depend on. Markets with more liquidity operate more smoothly and assets with more liquidity can be traded more easily without significant price changes or slippage.

Crypto exchanges can use their own assets to motivate market makers in the absence of traditional market makers by providing incentives proportional to their total trading volume, or through specific betting programs (Staking, AMM).

* To increase liquidity in the SCOP markets and the SDEX in general, Scopuly will implement a staking reward system. Everyone who brings liquidity will be rewarded with monthly payments in SCOP tokens in the amount of 10-30% per annum. A staking service will also be implemented thanks to Stellar AMM where users will be able to earn assets by providing liquidity for any Stellar tokens.

Control

Certain exchange-traded assets are intended to be used as various incentives and bonuses for users of the platform. Some crypto exchanges issue their own assets as a management tool for the future development of the exchange. Decentralized exchange-traded assets are becoming an increasingly important leverage for DEX as they seek to move towards fully community-driven operations. Such an asset is the SCOP token.

These awards will be presented to the community through various programs and events over the next several years.

1. Airdrop & Community

10% will be distributed between active Stellar addresses for an indefinite period of time until all 10% of the tokens are distributed. Another 10% will be awarded for contributions and participation in the development of the Scopuly community.

2. SCOP Holders' Rewards

SCOP listing plans on CEX

We have started the process of listing SCOP on CEX exchanges. We are currently in active negotiations with a number of exchanges. We will soon announce important announcements in this direction.

We understand the importance of preserving and multiplying the value that everyone who supports Scopuly receives by buying SCOP tokens and therefore will always strive to keep the SCOP price up to date and protect against severe drawdowns.

Each new round of Scopuly evolution should bring SCOP token holders even more value, since the more people learn about Scopuly over time, support and join the project, the token and the community, the more SCOP holders become and thus the faster its popularity, applicability and as a consequence - the value expressed in the market price list.

* If you hold SCOP or like using Scopuly, you can recommend your friends or acquaintances to try creating a wallet in Scopuly (1-2 minutes) and check how it all works. This will increase the value of your SCOP asset. No one will be indifferent to the speed and economy of Stellar and the simplicity and intuitiveness of Scopuly. Obviously, in the next 5-10 years, every person on earth will join the decentralized crypto economy. You can be the first to open this new interesting world for someone.
